

Bias Detection Report

The Chi-Square test results show that there is a significant correlation bias between the two categorical features.