

Bias Detection Report

The bias type is Correlation.

The relevant features are patient_lang and admission_type.

The results from the t-test show a significant difference in the means of the admission_type feature between the two groups (English and Spanish).

The effect size (Cohen's d) is 0.5, which suggests a moderate bias between the patient_lang and admission_type features.