

Bias Detection Report

This is a report introduction. The correlation between language and mortality is 0.15562175666058434, which indicates a moderate bias. This suggests that language barriers may have some impact on patient outcomes, particularly regarding mortality.