

Bias Detection Report

This is a report introduction. The bias type is Distribution, the relevant feature is Status of existing checking account, and the bias level is Level 2.

The distribution bias analysis using Shannon entropy and Balance metric revealed a bias level of 2, indicating that the categories in the 'Status of existing checking account' feature are not evenly distributed. This could be due to various factors such as differences in account types or customer behavior.