

Bias Detection Report

The feature 'income' in the dataset shows a moderate level of bias. The results from the Risk Difference calculation indicate that there is a difference in high income probabilities between the protected and non-protected groups.