

Bias Detection Report

This is a report introduction. The distribution of study time among students is relatively even, with no significant bias detected. The quantile deviation is less than 0.1, indicating a low risk of bias in the study time feature.