

Bias Detection Report

This is a report introduction.

The bias type is Correlation, and the relevant features are reason and mother's education level.

The bias level is Level 3.

The additional explanation is that the correlation between the reason students choose their school and their mother's education level is moderate, indicating a potential bias in the dataset.