

Bias Detection Report

This is a report introduction. The overall bias level is Extreme Bias, as indicated by the max/min ratio method. This suggests that the dataset is not well-balanced in terms of geographic representation, with some countries having a significantly higher number of instances than others.

