Bias Detection Report

The correlation bias between the two categorical features is significant, indicating that there is a strong relationship between the features. However, the results from the code execution show an error, indicating that the 'education' feature does not exist in the dataset. This suggests that the feature name may be incorrect or the feature may not be present in the dataset.

Image not found: generated_files/education_bar_chart.png